Art and wine enthusiasts won't want to miss Paint & Sip events at a historic location.

by JESSICA FISCHBERG

The Salty Canvas traveling paint studio is hosting a Paint & Sip event at The Baker House 1650, the exclusive East Hampton bed-and-breakfast. The boutique Hamptons inn gives guests a luxury home-away-from-home feel. Guests will be able to enjoy the picturesque and historic grounds of The Baker House while sipping wine and receiving detailed painting instruction. Geared toward painters of all skill levels, the Paint & Sip event takes place Aug. 9 from 5 to 7PM. Tickets are $50 each, which include all painting materials and one complimentary glass of wine. The Salty Canvas will also be hosting similar events at various locations throughout the Hamptons this summer. 181 Main St., bakerhouse1650.com; saltycanvashamptons.com

BEACH BOUND

"Luxury is the freedom to do whatever you would like in the moment without having to think about the logistics," says Julia Steyn, CEO of Maven, GM's new app-based car-sharing company. To that end, Maven expanded to the Hamptons this summer, with fully loaded Cadillacs (such as brand-new XT5s and Escalades) awaiting reservation at the East Hampton Airport, available for hourly or daily rentals through the app. "I love to go to the farm stands, to the beach; I love to cook, to go places where my son can find something interesting," says Steyn, who splits her time between Manhattan and East Hampton. "People need an opportunity to have transportation and freedom when they come out here." And for those looking to take car-sharing to the next level, Maven launched a subscription service, Maven Reserve, which will deliver luxury vehicles from the GM portfolio, including an Escalade or a Corvette, for monthlong periods. Reservations $23.50-$27 per hour, daily rates $225-$290, maven.com -Zachary Wilson
